We are following the direction from the Ministry of Education that Northern Ontario Schools will be reopening for in person classes as of January 11th. The province has extended the shutdown to other businesses and services for an additional 14 days, however, schools will be open as the government is being "responsive to the fact that Northern Ontario students are not able to learn at home as effectively due to limited access to reliable Internet service." (see link below).

Safety measures at each school will be enforced strongly, as the safety of students is at that heart of the matter.
